2006 Lou Groza Charity Event a Huge Success

The 2006 Lou Groza Charity Golf event was held on September 18th, 2006 at Columbia Hills Country Club. Over 100 golfers participated in what was one of the Rotary Club of Berea's premier fund raising events. Local celebrity players included Don Cockroft, Jamie Caleb, Ross Fitchner, Bob Hunt, Jim Houston, Ron Pruitt and Rod Morris. Although the $10,000 hole in one prize was not won, many other prizes were awarded, including a jersey autographed by Cleveland Browns running back Reuben Droughns and a football autographed by punter Dave Zastudil, both donated by the Cleveland Browns. Generous donors provided door prizes galore and a wonderful lunch and dinner was provided by Columbia Hills Country Club.

Rotary Club of Berea Presents Check to the City of Berea for the Lou Groza Athletic Fields

The Rotary Club of Berea presented a check for $2000.00 to the City of Berea to be used to benefit the Lou Groza Athletic Fields. Jackie Groza herself was in attendance to accept the check on behalf of the city. This check was donated from the Lou Groza Charity Golf Event and will be used for improvements to the Lou Groza Athletic Fields. The Rotary Club of Berea would like to thank all of our generous sponsors, golfers and golf event committee members.

Results are in from the 2006 Golf Event Survey Responses were Overwhelmingly Positive

A survey relating to the 2006 Lou Groza Charity Golf Event went out to participants in October and results will help the golf committee to make next year's event even better. 94% of respondents rated the value received for their registration fees as good to excellent, and 62% enjoyed the change to a sit-down dinner while 38% preferred a appetizer/cocktail hour. Some expressed a desire for earlier tee times and others requested optional skins games. All input is being considered. Thanks to everyone who responded. If you did not receive a survey, just send an email to jeri@crimcheck.com and we'll get one out to you.
